About HKCNP

Vision

Our Lord has heard the cry of the underprivileged people in Hong Kong, it's He who calls His people, sends them into communities of the poor: walk humbly with God, act justly and love mercy; speak according to the truth, act from a caring heart to manifest the witness of our church the Trinity.

Mission

HKCNP is a well coordinated community network platform formed by The Hong Kong Chinese Christian Churches Union, Hong Kong Christian Council, Hong Kong Church Renewal Movement, frontline Christian agencies and churches, which cares for the poor and transforms the community collaboratively. We are committed to identifying service gaps and developing multiple pilot programs in response to the needs. With an emphasis on capacity building, empowerment and mentorship, HKCNP provides reliable services which combine knowledge and caring. We help and empower our frontline partners to expand services and be in contact with more deprived groups by consolidating community network resources, to effectively carry out God's kingdom mission in the community .

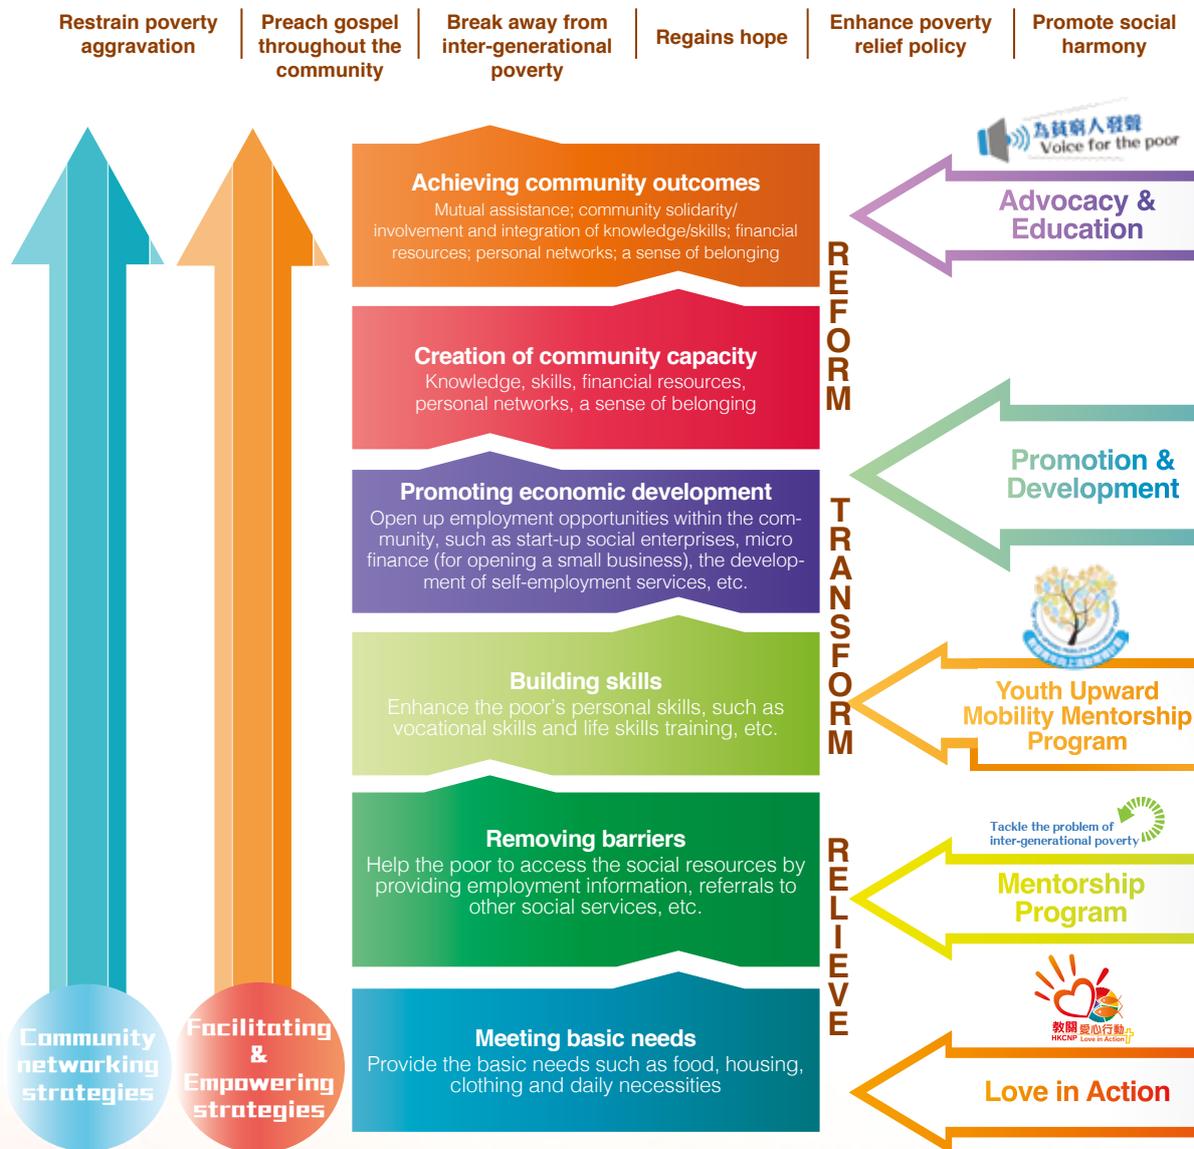

Positioning

HKCNP is a network and platform which connects and collaborates with our partners to serve the poor, and not through direct services.

Community Transformation through Gospel

Thy will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven.

The missions of Lord Jesus on earth were recorded in the Gospel of Luke: "To bring good news to the poor, free the imprisoned and the suppressed, and to restore the eye sight of the blind." The Lord gives us His strength so we, as residents of a community, may have with abilities to tackle our problems and manage our lives, to achieve all-round development in the physical, psychological and spiritual domains, and to improve various aspects of the community (health, education, work, relationship). By doing so, everyone, no matter the poor or the rich, can have his/her life transformed and live a life fulfilling the Lord's will for creation, and the community becomes a place manifesting the Kingdom of God.

Work and Pray Together as a Poverty Relief Network

That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

(John 17:21)

Words from the Chairman

Prophet Isaiah wrote, "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he anointed me to preach good tidings to the poor: He hath sent me to proclaim release to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised, to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord." Through this Bible verse, Lord Jesus provided us with a forecast on the scope of His work ahead. This was not just the work of Lord Jesus, but also the mandate He gave us. What the Lord did on earth is to preach the good news to the poor.

"Anti-pandemic fatigue" and "post-pandemic depression" were observed among people in Hong Kong recently that they became impatient as they found the social distancing rules unbearable. As the pandemic escalated, our daily lives were affected, together with social instability, economic problems and livelihood issues, the burden on the public was aggravated.

Under changing circumstances in the society, HKCNP has never stopped its work. Regarding the fact that the pandemic has triggered an economic depression, which led to a deterioration of the poverty problem faced by the poor, HKCNP has an unshrinkable responsibility. We have all along encouraged different sectors of the community to learn about the local poverty problem and expand their community networks. Apart from the "Course on Christian's Mission in Response to Wealth Disparity" which is held every year, we also worked with organizations and NGOs from various sectors to care for the poor. Since the outbreak of COVID-19, HKCNP has been working closely with partner churches and NGOs to learn about the immediate needs of the underprivileged and allocate resources through its extensive network to fill service gaps. About 20 poverty alleviation programmes were launched, including the Love Prepaid Meal Coupon, Job Matching Platform, "A Cup of Cold Water" Unemployment Emergency Relief Fund, mask collection and donation scheme, Corporate Coupon scheme, "One-stop Empowerment Training" Program, Standard Chartered HKCSS Subdivided Unit Subsidy Programme and HKBN ConnectED@Home Programme for Disadvantaged Students.

HKCNP contacted over 300 churches in the process of launching various programs to respond to the needs in the society.

The Lord guided us miraculously and we deepened relationship with churches and strengthened the cohesion of the church network platform. Five core service groups were formed by experienced frontline pastoral staff and leaders to connect churches to share resources and experiences of servicing the needy, so as to achieve God's kingdom mission in the community more effectively. HKCNP will enhance its network services and transform communities through various modes of community transformation and connection between social capital and network in the coming year in the hope that the underprivileged will be blessed by God in their daily lives and spiritually, and inter-generational poverty will be eradicated.

We were grateful that even under the impact of the pandemic, our partner churches, NGOs, schools, enterprises, volunteer ambassadors, donors and Christian groups put serving the underprivileged at the front line as priority and shared the care, love and gospel of Jesus Christ with them, so their lives may be transformed. Thank the Lord more churches and different groups in the society embraced the beliefs of HKCNP, joined and formed an extensive poverty alleviation network during this difficult time, which allowed HKCNP to establish a network and serve the public. We were particularly grateful to our three founding organizations The Hong Kong Chinese Christian Churches Union, Hong Kong Christian Council and Hong Kong Church Renewal Movement, for their prayers, support and spearheading HKCNP. The Government released the "Hong Kong Poverty Situation Report 2019" at the end of last year, which revealed a record high poverty rate and the situation is a severe test that poses challenges to and a heavier burden on HKCNP. We must work extra hard to eradicate poverty and support the underprivileged in the community by taking real actions. I encourage all of you to pray regularly for the poor and help in your own small ways. May the Lord use HKCNP, our partners and companion to extend the network of poverty relief in the coming year and show the hope in the Lord to more underprivileged families.

A Cup of Cold Water

In 2020, nearly 20 "Anti-epidemic" poverty alleviation programmes were launched during the pandemic.

Multiple pilot schemes were launched quickly in response to the needs under the pandemic to fill service gaps.

Since the outbreak of COVID-19, HKCNP had identified a large group of underprivileged citizens who needed material supplies. In the midst of pandemic disruptions, HKCNP kept launching pilot programs to help the needy with our partner churches. Pastors and HKCNP, not just try to offer practical help to the beneficiaries in daily lives, but also cared for their mental and spiritual needs in person.

In 2021, HKCNP will continue to work closely with our partners to establish networks and provide frontline churches with training and resources in response to the needs of the underprivileged.

Anti-Epidemic Caring Projects

"A Cup of Cold Water" Unemployment Emergency Relief Fund

Covid-19 has severely hampered the HK economy and the underprivileged are suffering the most. In view of this, HKCNP set up "A Cup of Cold Water" Unemployment Emergency Relief Fund. We worked with our partner churches to identify the beneficiaries through our poverty alleviation programmes in the past and identify needs of the unemployed underprivileged, provided them with a one-time aid of $5,000 to meet their urgent needs and relieve their financial burden.

Thank you Lord! Today I passed a $5,000 cheque of HKCNP "A Cup of Cold Water" Unemployment Emergency Relief Fund to a lady from Shui Chuen O Estate to offer her family support and HKCNP "Love Prepaid Meal Coupon" to relieve her financial stress a bit. Every two weeks, apart from asking her to spend time with me to talk about faith, I also gave her a Bible today and encouraged her to read the Gospel of Mark everyday. May her heart be nourished by God's words.

Corporate Cash Coupon

In order to cover more needs of the underprivileged and encourage enterprises to help in their own ways to care for the poor, HKCNP contacted 6 major enterprises, including AT, KFC, BIG BIG SHOP, Pizza Hut, HKBN and Hung Fook Tong, to provide the underprivileged with 10,000 cash coupons each worth around $600 or free product redemption vouchers, so as to offer material support to the underprivileged with financial difficulties under the pandemic. It was hoped that by allowing them to use "Corporate Coupons" for exchanging items like daily necessities and food, we could walk with them and bring them hope.

HKCNP "Corporate Cash Coupons" were given away during the pandemic. One of the residents in the neighbourhood was very happy when she found that one of the coupons could be used to purchase electrical appliances as her rice cooker did not work anymore.

After getting a pizza redemption voucher, a resident said excitedly, "That's great! We can celebrate my son's birthday tonight!" The Lord is so good that He knows what people need and prepares everything for them. The Bible says, "Give us this day our daily bread.", which is so true! Thank you Lord for taking care of the poor! Hallelujah!

"Tough Times Together" 24-month Free Broadband Service

HKBN ConnectED@Home Programme for Disadvantaged Students

HKBN, a partner enterprise of HKCNP, had launched the "Tough Times Together" programme since April. 20 partner churches and 1 partner NGO of HKCNP took part in it as application handling units and 1,000 quotas were filled in 4 months, which helped numerous families in need. Later, through HKBN ConnectED@Home Programme for Disadvantaged Students, pocket Wi-Fi routers, SIM Cards and tablets were given away to the underprivileged students. More than 170 students were contacted by the partner churches of HKCNP and benefited from the programme.

As we are living in an area with unstable internet connection, my child always got disconnected during online classes, which was very disturbing. This pocket Wi-Fi router solved our problems and allowed us to have online classes and watch videos without being disturbed. My child has become more attentive and developed a greater interest in studies. Thanks a lot!

Thank you Lord for loving me and giving me the chance to have a tablet. I would also like to thank Pastor Chan, HKCNP and the donor. Thank you!

Love in Action

- ① Through collaboration and by making use of the seed fund supported by HKCNP, members of 5 working groups (please refer to page 20) put their heads together to develop more service models, empower lives and achieve God's kingdom mission in the community more effectively.
- ② Set up district partner resources and supplies collection and distribution points to facilitate delivery of supplies, enhance the cooperation between district partners, explore potential resources of the districts and transform communities.
- ③ Continue to encourage university students to take part in community service internship programmes of local partner churches and expand the programmes to include theological students. By nurturing their spirit of "not to be served but to serve", it is hoped that teenagers will become servant leaders in different sectors of the society.
- ④ Launch Community Service Ambassador Training Programme in the first and second quarter of 2021. Through systematic community service volunteer training, Christians will be trained to be well-equipped Community Service Ambassadors with missions who fulfil the Great Mission of "love your neighbour as yourself".
- ⑤ It is expected that the pandemic will continue to affect the world in 2021. We will continue to establish networks and provide resources in response to the needs of the underprivileged while supporting local churches which serve them in the long term, walk with them and transform their lives.

Synergies of intra-network collaboration

Every church in the network has its own strength, which can be used to help other churches in delivering services when they work hand in hand. For instance, some of the churches have their own service centres, which can be used to collect resources from the neighbourhood and later distribute those resources among different churches in the network. Coordinated efforts help to promote positive images of the churches in the neighbourhoods, which facilitates the evangelical ministry, and the residents in the neighbourhoods will be more friendly to the churches.

Over the years we have co-organized various activities and programmes, such as festive activities and Christmas evangelist rallies - we have Christmas caroling every year, during which we go from Tai O to Ngong Ping and give away gifts in Yat Tung Estate, Fu Tung Estate and Ying Tung Estate. We also collected external resources, such as masks, anti-epidemic items and rice, during the pandemic and distributed them among different churches in the network for giving away to the residents in the local neighbourhood.

Support by HKCNP

We referred our church friends living in Tung Chung to the English-speaking church (Union Church) so they could participate in the evangelical ministry in Tung Chung, such as remedial Chinese classes to South Asian children. Besides, we and other churches which provided community services supported each other by getting to know more about each other's services and encouraging each other. Material support was also provided.

Synergies of intra-network collaboration

In the campaign "Fight against the epidemic together: Loving and sharing with your neighbour" held in 2020, Shuen Tao Church was responsible for collecting supplies, which were then transferred to the churches and given away by those churches on a rotational basis. The particulars of the beneficiaries were shared among the churches involved to avoid duplicate registration and make sure the supplies could be delivered to more people in need. Residents in the neighbourhood were also willing to share their knowledge in return for the help they received from the churches. Some of them taught the staff members of the churches to make fabric mask covers to extend the lifespan of a face mask for one to two days, and they even brought their own fabric to the churches. Many local residents learnt about that and came to the churches to help everyday, some of them were willing to learn more about our faith and even became Christians.

Churches also purchased some Prepaid Meal Coupons from small restaurants to help them through the hard times. By giving away the coupons, we blessed the local residents in need and relieved their stress of day-to-day living while creating an atmosphere of mutual assistance in the community. The interaction between church staff, restaurants and local residents put a human face on the impact of the pandemic and showed that we were united in effort to fight the pandemic.

Support by HKCNP

HKCNP delivered the supplies of "Love in Action", including PeaceBox and anti-epidemic items, to the church network. The chairman of "Pastors Fellowship of Tai Kok Tsui" invited the churches in the network to participate in "Love in Action" projects like Prepaid Meal Coupon and Corporate Cash Coupon by forwarding the information, in order to gather more supplies and items to serve the community.

Social participation

HKCNP actively invited members of the public, including enterprises and NGOs of all sizes, as well as individuals, to participate in serving the needy and be part of our partner network. By utilizing their own abilities and strengths, they could better support the frontline serving churches and help more families in need.

In August this year, we came across a piece of news about some underprivileged families who could not afford basic meals under the pandemic, and the difficulties encountered by local small businesses. Therefore, when we heard about the "Love Prepaid Meal Coupon" scheme of HKCNP, we thought it was a very effective way to address these two problems. Besides, we would like to use flowers to spice up the lives of our families and friends, and bring them hope. Our "Flowers4Meals" campaign was then started. We were so grateful to raise HK$60,000 within one week and let HKCNP give away about 2000 food coupons to some needy families. Thank you HKCNP!

Brother R (Donor)

In February this year, I found that the livelihood of many, especially the underprivileged, were gravely affected. In view of the social instability and the worsening pandemic situation, I prayed and thought that as a group of people who received the grace of God and knew Jesus, we should help as much as we can and be responsible. I was particularly burdened with evangelical poverty alleviation services, therefore I set up the "Salt and Light" Fund with several brothers who were also prompted to help the needy under the guidance of God. Some brothers and sisters later introduced us to some churches and NGOs which served the poor.

In late April, we got to know HKCNP. I asked them, "We would like to offer help in a more practical way, can HKCNP introduce us to churches which serve the community?" As a result, "Salt and Light" reached more disadvantaged people through HKCNP and provided items like rice, instant noodles, canned food, rice dumplings, mooncakes, food coupons, hand sanitizer and masks accordingly. Later, I joined the "HKCNP Love in Action Group", where I learnt about the needs of other churches. Everytime when they needed something, I prayed and contacted the churches in need as I was moved by the Holy Spirit. We have contacted over 10 churches or institutes so far, every time when we received the photos capturing us delivering ministry services and the disadvantaged receiving help, as well as the smiles on their faces, all of these were of enormous encouragement to our team.

I'm over 60 this year and I'm not as rich as those big businessmen who could invest tens of millions of dollars to set up mask production lines and donate the masks to those in need, not to mention I did not have the professional knowledge to do that. At that time, all I could do was to provide the groups which donated masks with free delivery services through my transportation fleet. This helped relieve the financial burden of the donors, by which they could use the money saved for purchasing more masks for donation, and made sure the disadvantaged could receive the masks from the kind-hearted donors as soon as possible.

Promote mentorship culture

HKCNP is committed to assisting disadvantaged teenagers in development to explore their potentials, to find their passions and pursue their dreams, to increase their chance of achieving upward mobility and tackle the problem of inter-generational poverty in the long term. In order to help the teenagers, HKCNP has continuously promoted mentorship culture, encouraged Christians to become mentors, so as to work with the Lord and walk with teenagers. Based on the love of Jesus, mentors can influence the lives of others with their own and provide pastoral care to the teenagers.

In 2007, HKCNP first launched the "Church Intensive Community Mentoring Pilot Program". The Government adopted the model later in 2008 to establish the Children Development Fund (CDF), which aimed to offer long-term and sustainable help to disadvantaged children aged 10-16. In 2016, HKCNP launched the Youth Upward Mobility Mentorship Program (YUM), which aimed to help youth aged 18-25 to overcome challenges in upward mobility, especially for the disadvantaged and those with lower education levels. In 2018, HKCNP also launched the Post-Child Development Fund Program (Post-CDF) to provide mentees completed Child Development Fund Program with support for another two years, in the hope of extending the life nurturing campaign until the mentees graduate from secondary schools.

Objectives of the mentorship culture

Through the resources and experience gained from promoting Child Development Fund Program, Post-CDF Program and Youth Upward Mobility Mentorship Program, we would like to

- ① Encourage Christians, existing and new partners to take part in the mentorship programs
- ② Enhance the synergy between various mentorship programs of HKCNP and Love in Action projects
- ③ Improve and increase the effectiveness of the mentorship programs
- ④ Promote and establish a mentorship culture among Christians to serve teenagers

Action plan 2021

- ① Program promotion: provide assistance in the promotion of various mentorship programs and recruitment of service providers and Christians as mentors. Sponsor the CDF mentee matching fund and support the service providers of the mentorship programs financially.
- ② Mentor empowerment: Form mentor groups, walk with the mentors and strengthen service mentalities of mentors. Coordinate co-organized activities and organize Mentor Day to enhance the knowledge and skills of mentors in serving teenagers.
- ③ Group formation: Form mentorship program partner groups through the mentorship planning team. Hold meetings twice a year for knowledge and experience exchange, consolidating community network resources and the power of teamwork. Collaborate to serve the teenagers and promote mentorship culture.
- ④ Continue to be the strategic partner of the Child Development Fund of the government, promote the role and function of HKCNP in CDF Program, as well as the culture of mentorship. Review the program with the government regularly and make recommendations on program improvement.

Child Development Fund Mentorship Program (CDF)

In 2007, HKCNP first launched the "Church Intensive Community Mentoring Pilot Program". The Government adopted the model later in 2008 and has cumulatively allocated $900 million to establish and implement the "Child Development Fund", which aimed to offer long-term and sustainable help to the next generation. The policy effectively utilized and integrated resources gained from families, organizations, the society and the Government to provide disadvantaged children with support in long-term development, so as to facilitate their long-term personal development and help them lift themselves out of inter-generational poverty.

HKCNP connected with churches, NGOs, schools and government departments to assist youngsters in creating their individual development plans and building social assets, so as to tackle the problem of intergenerational poverty in the long term. Meanwhile, networks were formed and the community was transformed.

My mentees were all little angels. Through the 3-year mentorship, I was encouraged to witness their personal growth. They had changed from passive receivers into active givers, and learnt to give back. When I heard that the mentees aspired to be mentors to pass on the mentorship culture, I praised the Lord in my heart.

I would like to thank my mentor Annie who was very passionate and cared about my life. For instance, on the DSE Results Release Day, she initiated to take time to keep me company, which was like giving me a booster as it was really important to be supported. I also kept the message cards Annie gave me. I'm really grateful for her company all these years, accommodated my emotional ups and downs and caring for my family.

HKCNP Youth Upward Mobility Mentorship Program (YUM)

To initiate a feasible, sustainable and expandable YUM program

The social changes in recent years and the economic fallout arising from the pandemic have made youth upward mobility harder to achieve, especially for the disadvantaged pandemic those with lower education levels. Even for others, the problem of working poverty still exists. YUM was set up in 2015 based on the idea proposed by Dr. Philemon Choi Yuen Wan and Dr. Ricky Szeto, in the hope of gathering socially responsible enterprises and institutes, churches, social welfare agencies and schools to care for the youth and increase their chance of upward mobility.

Objectives of YUM Program

- ① Youth-oriented, guide 18-25 year olds who just joined the workforce to understand themselves better and develop positive values through the mentorship program. Enhance their job skills and cultivate the habit of self-enhancement. Enhance the competitiveness of the youngsters to increase their motivation for upward mobility.
- ② Youngsters who just joined the workforce are guided and supported in areas like self-understanding, career planning and interpersonal skills through mentorship. Mentors help them face the challenges in life and at work, learn about workplace soft skills and good work attitudes, so as to improve their work performance and stability.
- ③ Improve the program continuously to construct an operable and effective mentorship model. Encourage Christians to become mentors providing guidance for the lives and careers of the youngsters, to learn how to walk with them and transform their lives. It is hoped that the mentors will experience the renewal of lives while delivering the service.
- ④ Promote mentorship culture, encourage enterprises, churches and Christians to actively go into the community and join youth ministries through the program to show their love and care to the youngsters and transform their lives collaboratively. In the long run, to nurture a group of motivated, economically and spiritually fulfilled youngsters with positive values for the society.

My mentor is very friendly and easy to talk to, who respects the youngsters and listens carefully to what I say. Every time when we talk, I learn how to look at various issues from different perspectives. My mentor also shared his personal experiences with me, from which I learnt how to get along with people and deal with things in the workplace. I started to think more positively and I knew that when I had a need, I could ask for help from a suitable person during the process. Also, I understand myself better from the program. What I appreciate most is I am now more proactive in asking questions and for help. In the mentorship group, I was most impressed by the part of understanding my personality traits and the problem-solving skills I learnt, which allowed me to realize my weaknesses so as to improve them. The mentors in the group also reminded me that I needed to face the difficulties I encountered at work with a positive attitude and should not give up easily.

I enrolled in an engineering course in a university, which commenced in September this year. Classes formats and academic progress were affected by the pandemic, and I needed to achieve a balance between work, study, rest and life. I believe that hard work will pay off in the long run and every cloud has a silver lining. I hope that what I am doing now will turn into something I am proud of one day.

When I first met the two trainees as their mentor, as both of them were living in Tuen Mun, it was hard for us to meet up with them. What I did not expect was the traffic chaos during the social movement and the pandemic outbreak around the world soon after the program was kicked off. Nevertheless, we were still able to hold a group meeting during this tough time. This made me think that I should cherish the time we spent together and seize every opportunity to help. I needed to better equip myself so not to let my trainees think that the mentors were wasting their time, I therefore decided to take the Certificate in Career Coaching course.

I originally thought that I could participate in the YUM service as an individual, but as HKCNP hoped that we could deliver the service as a group from the church, I needed to recruit group members from my fellowship. Our fellowship was a workplace mission fellowship, the brothers and sisters all had the burden to evangelize at the workplace. I was grateful that YUM provided us with a chance to serve together and enriched my church life. All of these were not expected at the beginning. Thank you Lord for Your grace!

Post-Child Development Fund Program (Post-CDF)

HKCNP hopes to extend the life nurturing campaign until the teenagers graduate from secondary schools and prepare them for further studies or joining the workforce. Therefore, we have worked with our local partners since 2018 to launch the two-year Post-CDF program, which perpetuates and reinforces the good mechanism of "CDF". Mentees are matched with mentors, who walk with and care for them, assist them in career planning after they finish the CDF program and provide support continuously.

Post-Child Development Fund Program (Post-CDF) is a two-year program promoted by HKCNP and multiple churches and institutes in different districts took part in it. The program targets the teenagers who joined the CDF. My church (Christian & Missionary Alliance Sun Kei Church) also joined the Program. We especially focused on walking with dozens of senior secondary students and assisted them in making choices for further studies.

We were grateful that two youngsters who were guided by the mentors were able to find their ways. One of the youngster's DSE results was not as satisfactory as expected. He was disappointed at first, worried about the future and did not know what he really wanted to do. After asking for help from his mentor and having several rounds of discussions, he decided to apply for the child care and education course of IVE and he was admitted. He had never considered this pathway before, but after he talked to a kindergarten teacher, whom he was referred to, to learn more about the work of a kindergarten teacher, he decided to take the first step!

Mentor Day

HK wealth gap issue remains serious. In order to tackle the problem of inter-generational poverty at its root and help grass-roots youngsters to live a life of hope, HKCNP actively promoted the benefits of the mentorship program and enhanced mentors' ability to provide service by organizing the 2nd "Mentor Day" at Evangelical Free Church of China Yan Fook Church on 21 November 2020. About 360 people participated in the function and more than 80% of them were existing mentors while about 20% of the participants were interested in learning more about the mentorship program and becoming mentors.

The function was intended to be a cheering session for the mentors, in which mentors exchanged their views and experiences, supported each other and enhanced their knowledge and skills in serving the teenagers. The event also promoted the establishment of mentorship culture in society, encouraged churches and Christians who were interested to join the program, so as to bring teenagers love and hope to bring life transformation.

Dr. YU Tak Shun, Charles, a well-known EQ trainer, shared the skills of becoming a mentor. He emphasized that mentors should pursue their initial calls with trust and dreams, be responsible and put the calls into actions, by doing so, mentors could help mentees achieve their goals. He also used 10 characters in Chinese to conclude the main point of counselling communication, which meant trust, come true, brain, rehearse, responsibility and action. In order to enhance the quality of mentorship and assist the participants who were interested in learning more about the program, 8 workshops with different themes were prepared to fulfil the needs of the mentors.

Mr. Douglas Chan (Convener of Mentor Day 2020)

After having the mentor training, I found that mentors are supposed to be the friends of the mentees, but not their tutors, teachers or even seniors. We need to learn about the things they play with, watch and discuss them. Just like what Paul said, "To the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak: I am become all things to all men, that I may by all means save some."

Only when I am able to condescend myself and be a friend of the mentees, I can exert the influence of peers and influence the lives of others with my own. We must first get into their world so as to walk to the future with them.

HKCNP "Kingdom in the Community" model

Kingdom Asset Based Community Development (KABCD) is the process that the Lord empowers the people in a community to develop their capacities in solving problems and controlling their lives, so as to enhance their holistic development in physical, emotional and spiritual being and improvement in different aspects of a community, including health care, education, job industry and relationship. Through this process, the individuals and the community become all that the Lord intends them to be.

HKCNP Shui Chuen O Network

According to the "Kingdom in the community" model and through Network synergy, HKCNP assisted and supported various units' services in the community of Shui Chuen O and transformed the community. The work included organizing prayer-walking, holding regular team meetings, Network members delivering regular services, co-organizing activities, mobilizing a large group of Christian volunteers, exploring and sharing of community resources from multiple sources (including Lions Clubs, district councillors, mutual aid committees, online media, etc.) and serving the residents of the estate with local resident volunteers.

The progress of HKCNP Shui Chuen O community transformation grew in the past 5 years: I'm grateful that with the leadership and encouragement of HKCNP, our Heavenly Father provided us with resources from different sources. He led us to expand our network membership from starting with 4 churches in Shatin district 5 years ago to 14 this year, while witnessing the intake of this large-scale public housing estate. Quite a number of local residents, who were once receivers and now have become givers, have so far volunteered to serve with us. This year, we tried to recruit resident volunteers from the 18 blocks of the estate to empower them and encourage district self-contained. By adopting a bottom-up approach when gathering the opinion of the local residents, we walked with them and multiplied network establishment. It is hoped that we can witness the transformation of Shui Chuen O community into a healthy estate which is initiated by local residents and assisted by HKCNP as soon as possible. May they turn to the Lord and the Kingdom of God come.

Through the 'HKCNP Shui Chuen O Network', our team got to know more churches and other NGOs in Shui Chuen O. Since we have common goals to serve the residents in this district, we are most willing to share resources and information with each other. As resource-sharing a shared rationale amongst us, we like to support, explore resources, work together, and organize joint-service activities. I was grateful that we could play our own roles of serving in the community, meanwhile, we would seek opportunities in collaboration. It was hoped that we could share a fruitful outcome of community transformation in the upcoming future.

Core Service Groups

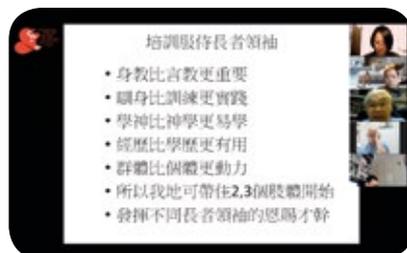

In view of the outbreak of pandemic in early 2020, HKCNP launched various projects in response to the needs of the community and reached out to more than 200 churches. HKCNP hoped to further deepen relationship between churches, strengthen the cohesion of church networks through the established platform and learn more about the ways to support churches. Therefore, a study on "Survey of Churches in HKCNP Love Plans" was conducted.

The team prepared Ministry Service Handbooks on six different groups (new immigrants, women, underprivileged elderly, underprivileged teenagers, underprivileged children and ethnic minorities). At the same time, the team liaised with pastors serving these groups, and core groups were formed by experienced frontline pastoral staff. Churches serving the same groups who would like to deepen their services were connected to form "working groups" in the hope to share resources, deepen the relationship between the churches and explore new service models with the $50,000 seed fund provided by HKCNP.

"Space sharing" ministry

"Space sharing"

HKCNP encourages Christian groups to put resources to good use to bless the community. Sharing space is a good way to reach local residents and attract people to the church. Therefore, HKCNP formed the "Space sharing" Core Group, which focused on the mission of encouraging churches and religious groups to open their spaces, so as to deepen intra-community relationship, build mutual trust between groups in the community, empower and support partners on making good use of community space and promote the spirit of sharing within the community, in the hope to transform space and use space resources more effectively to serve the poor.

In order to encourage our partners to put the space they own to good use and serve the poor in a more effective way, HKCNP worked with Mr. Ben Wong, the architectural designer from "Space Sharing" Core Group, to help our partners build social capital in poverty alleviation projects and leverage the synergy of collaboration by making use of Mr. Wong's professional knowledge and talent for architectural design. Since June this year, the "Shared Space" Core Group had held shared space workshops or guided tours every month to provide pastoral staff with information on the shared space of various churches and their modes of operation for reference, so as to encourage the churches they were serving to release resources.

The core group organized a visit to Christian Evangelical Centre Hua En Church, Youth Hotspot and CityLab HK for pastoral staff in June. Hua En Church aimed at achieving the mission of 24/7 service, i.e. open the church 24/7. The church provided coffee and comfortable seats for people to enjoy the free coffee, which were donated by others, any donation is welcome. By doing so, the church sought to encourage sharing and attract more people to the church. Besides, the church adopted a "bottom-up" concept of service, which encouraged brothers and sisters in the church to share their dreams regarding community service, and two extremely meaningful projects, "Maria Nails" and "HEcares Counselling Services", were then launched. "Maria Nails" aimed at teaching manicure to women working near Temple Street and let them practice with the church members, in the hope to equip those underprivileged women with a skill. "HEcares Counselling Services" was a counselling service provided to the needy in the community by church members. Both were on-going projects which endeavoured to transform the community.

Workplace Love Prepaid Meal Coupon Pilot Scheme

Favourable response to the HKCNP Love Prepaid Food Coupon was received, and our partner churches were moved during the pandemic and desire to understand the needs of the disadvantaged local residents. Quite a number of churches took their first steps to liaise with small shops in the community to establish networks. Those in the workforce also took actions after finding out the needs of the disadvantaged local residents and small shops by launching the Workplace Love Prepaid Food Coupon Scheme with HKCNP.

With the help from HKCNP, five workplace fellowships (The Association of Christian Accountants, Banking Evangelistic Fellowship (now renamed as Financial Services Evangelistic Fellowship), Lawyers Christian Fellowship and Engineering & Construction Evangelical Fellowship) launched the Workplace Love Prepaid Food Coupon Pilot Scheme. They believed that Christians could help the underprivileged tide over the difficult times through love actions and show their concern about the poor by donating meals. Members of the workforce fellowships donated Love Prepaid Food Coupon in the name of an individual, a company, an institute or a private team to support the restaurants in the community. By giving away food coupons to fulfil the needs of the disadvantage and share Good News. It was hoped that we could be salt and light at a critical time in the pandemic.

Outcome

The scheme was fully supported by the churches upon the promotion of HKCNP. The first phase of the scheme was completed in September 2020. Members of 8 churches, who were grouped into 32 teams, participated in giving away the food coupons. The volunteer work team, which consisted of more than 120 enthusiastic volunteers, showed their care for the community and conveyed the gospel. The team visited the community for more than 20 times and reached more than 1000 underprivileged individuals, including disadvantaged elderly, sub-divided unit tenants, the homeless and cleaning workers, and more than 200 of them accepted Christ as their personal savior.

Last night, from the moment I talked to the first old lady till I shared the gospel with the last three old ladies and they all accepted Christ. I felt that the whole process was led by God, and I could not take any credit. I even felt ashamed of myself!

Those old ladies aged 70 to 80, and they were living a hard life and did not even have enough food. Though they were suffering from various pain conditions, they still worked hard to earn their livings. Most people at this age are retired and enjoying their lives, but these old ladies still worked hard just for fulfilling basic needs. As a person who always complains about minor matters in daily life, I felt deeply ashamed of myself after learning about their positive attitude. The most amazing part was that they did not refuse to learn about Christ. When I was introducing to them the salvation of the Lord Jesus in a clumsy way, they paid attention and said "I do" loudly in the end. I was so surprised, as I had never thought that they would accept Christ, and moved, as God brought them to me and taught me not to look down on myself and be lazy in sharing the Good News. God has prepared everything and we just need to do our job as a Christian, a vessel for the Lord's use and a loyal servant!

Press conference on pandemic pilot service schemes launched by HKCNP and the business sector

In order to further encourage more enterprises to take actions to care for the underprivileged, HKCNP held an online press conference on 2 June regarding upcoming pandemic pilot schemes. We aimed at establishing the culture of community caring and actively invited different sectors of the community to participate in the anti-poverty campaign under the pandemic. During the press conference, Dr. Susanna Ma, Executive Director of HKCNP, mentioned that when we were doing job matching, we found that not everybody was capable of taking a part-time or full-time job, so we decided to work with social welfare agencies to provide vocational trainings in July, which was expected to include 60 programmes, ranging from domestic service, property management to beauty care, and subsidies would be provided for some of the programmes.

Healthcare Backpacker Internship Program

The interns guided the underprivileged in learning hygiene practices.

The intern tried to understand the need of a beneficiary.

HKCNP worked with HK Christian Doctor Network this year to launch the "Healthcare Backpacker Internship Program" and invited medical students from the University of Hong Kong to work as interns at HKCNP. There were two phases of internship this year and 7 interns worked at HKCNP in total. During the 3-month internship, they participated in community services of our partner churches, from which they learnt about the current mode of community service and had site visits to explore the exact needs of local residents. Service gaps in the communities could be identified by interviewing different stakeholders.

During the site visits, students participated in services and observed issues happening in the communities and gathered opinion and experience shared by stakeholders to compile a "district report" for each district with the help from experienced researchers arranged by HKCNP. The reports recorded the characteristics and needs of the district, as well as the current mode of service of churches. It also included tailor-made service plans for our partner churches. For instance, launching the "HKCNP Love in Action Community Ambassador Scheme" in Yau Ma Tei district to provide the underprivileged with job opportunities, so as to equip them and help them improve their lives while leading them to learn more about our faith and transform their lives. In the second phase of the internship program, students also helped improve the "Workplace Christians Community Service Plan" to encourage marketplace Christians to serve the neighbours in the communities according to the needs of the communities.

Medical students gained real and down-to-earth experience during the internship at HKCNP, which positively influenced their values and how they work in the medical field in the future. I believe that the program has a positive impact on the territory-wide medical poverty alleviation work and facilitates cooperation between professionals and community service.

I remember that a student intern and I once accompanied a local resident to a medical appointment, and the local resident fell when he was getting in a taxi. We realized that he could no longer walk and needed to use a wheelchair. Although we only accompanied the resident to medical appointments a few times, I could feel that the student walked with him attentively. As a medical student, they could comfort and bless patients with just a few words. There was a huge medical need in the community we served. The student intern brought new motivation and ideas to the church, and we were looking forward to having other student interns and setting up more service plans.

I have benefited a lot from the 3-month internship at HKCNP. I am grateful that I could have the chance to reach the disadvantaged local residents, give away supplies and show my care to them. We always want to be a good doctor, but if we know nothing about the life of the underprivileged, how can we put ourselves in their shoes? By working at the frontline, listening to their stories patiently, participating in and setting up service plans, I had a different experience and inspiration.

"Oct 17 Fast-a-Meal" Anti-Poverty Campaign Art Competition

This is the sixth consecutive year that HKCNP has organized the "Oct 17 Fast-a-Meal" Anti-Poverty Campaign, which encouraging the public to respond to the United Nations' call at International Day for the Eradication of Poverty on 17 October and take part in "HKCNP 10.10.10 Anti-Poverty Campaign". The participants were invited to fight against destitution collaboratively and tackle dire poverty through concrete actions. We hoped that through the visual art competition held in 2020, we could gather suggestions from various sectors of the society on the ways to tackle the root causes of poverty and mobilize more people to participate in the anti-poverty campaign.including disadvantaged elderlies, sub-divided unit tenants, the homeless and cleaning workers.

A lovely girl and her younger brother came to HKCNP one day, and they were the awardees of "10.17 Fast-a-meal" Art Competition 2020. The younger brother was the first runner-up in Kindergarten Category while his elder sister was the champion in Junior Primary Category. Both of them did not apply through school or arts studio. Their aunt told us that they joined the competition as they had nothing to do at home during holidays and their mother is a talented artist with more than 10 years of experience. The elder sister put the drawing paper on a light box to create gradual tonal effect, and the kids were inspired by their daily lives to create the artworks under the guidance of their family members. The objective of the art competition was to guide the children to observe the needs of the world and their surroundings and not to produce stereotyped and repetitive artworks. Though children cannot go out frequently during the pandemic, their eyes can still see the needs of the world. HKCNP hopes that parents can encourage their children to express what they see in society through art. With the creative and positive thoughts of the children, we can contemplate how we should construct our community and find hope in the storm.

Course on Christian's Mission in Response to Wealth Disparity - extended work

Though we could not hold the course in 2020 due to the pandemic, many of the participating pastors and churches' interested in serving the poor were enthusiastic after the mission course held in November 2019. In order to pass on and utilize the precious serving experience gained by the service providers and with the support from and participation of frontline pastoral staff, 5 core service groups were formed to continue to share experience and recruit more fellows who were moved to serve. I am grateful that I joined the " Course on Christian's Mission in Response to Wealth Disparity " with other fellow staff in November 2019, during which my horizon of church and care for our society was broadened and how it connected with evangelical mission.....

In April 2020, through HKCNP, our church took part in the "Tough Times Together" 24-month Free broadband for the disadvantaged programme, during which we got to know 40 needy families and gained their trust. As such, evangelical work and our care for the community was expanded. I am looking forward to the mission course to be held in January 2021 and hope to attend the course with lay leaders and fellow staff, to continue to embrace God's vision for us to care for our community.

Lent Prayer Booklet - Pray for the Poor

In order to encourage Christians to pray for churches' work among the poor, since 2018, HKCNP has been collecting from our partner churches intercession items regarding social services for publishing Lent prayer booklets. So, during Lent, Christians would pray for the underprivileged families which are living a hand-to-mouth existence and remember the sufferings and resurrection of Jesus Christ. This prayer initiative is supported by many partners.

Publication

HKCNP published our first book "From 1 to 726 Networking Transformation Strategies" to share God's mission and blessing for us and our journey in building a sizeable poverty alleviation network. Please pray for our next publication and we hope the ways we care for the poor and God's blessing may be shared in our community through our partners.

Please advise on any errors and omissions.

Now he who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food will also supply and increase your store of seed and will enlarge the harvest of your righteousness. You will be enriched in every way so that you can be generous on every occasion, and through us your generosity will result in thanksgiving to God.

Phoebe (Intern)

I visited Grace Baptist Church, a HKCNP partner, in the second half of July during the third wave of COVID-19 to learn more about the services they deliver in the community. I also interviewed the pastoral staff, church members and beneficiary families. Coincidentally, the church was giving away food and supplies to 80 grass-roots families in the district that day. There were teenagers and elderlies who participated in the service. The weather was hot and everybody was sweating, but no one complained. Though they worked for so long and had no time to eat or drink, their smiles brought hope to the beneficiaries.

Richest love flows from God. Connections transform lives of the poor.

Truly I tell you, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me.

Matthew 25:40

Please support the asset-based community transformation movement, in which people in the community grow in their ability to solve their own problems and take control of their lives, resulting in growth of the whole person and improvement of the various aspects of their community. Thus, the individuals and the community become all that God intends them to be.
